The search engine is not, thus, tied to keywords that was identified in the site creation: only a set of “starting keywords” are needed for running the automatic process. The keywords with Access Pole Position are integrated dynamically by the system, as a function of the accesses that they generate to the site, with a system for periodically reviewing and absolutely in automatic mode.

ACCESS PROMOTION

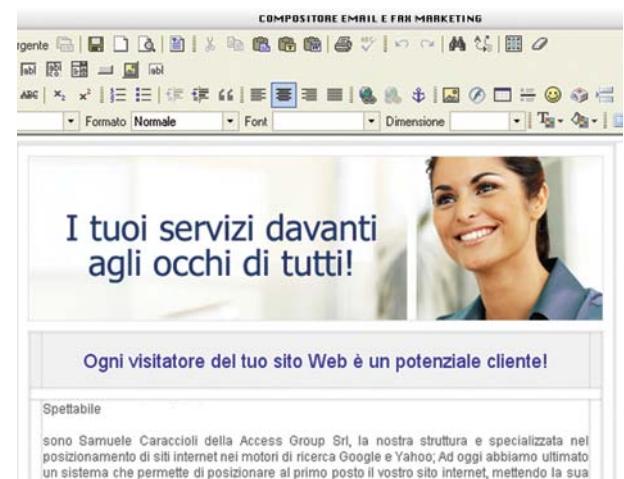

EMAIL MARKETING & FAX MARKETING

This is a communication tool integrated that allows you to create marketing campaigns directed through the creation of newsletters, emails and fax-marketing*.

Access Promotion allows you to create your promotional E-mail or fax advertising, through a simple graphical interface and send the advertising message to a target of thousands of companies around the world profiled by category, geographical location, turnover and other parameters.

*The Suite Accessweb Medium doesn't support Fax-Marketing.

The message is then sent to companies that match the ideal profile of the customer taking tangible results for each specific advertising campaign. The system also incorporates a technological innovation that allows the user, once has planned the desired target, the forwarding and the complete management of fax-marketing, report documents delivered and results of the campaign all through a single application.

THE SUCCESS OF THE FIRST INSTALLATION

Before selling a product we like to test its real capabilities, to be sure to put on the market a product that not only works, but that represents an innovation that can bring tangible benefits to its users. For this reason the first site that we have created with the support of AccessWeb suite and integrated with Access Pole Position, the dynamic positioning in search engines, it was our www.accessweb.it. And its for the excellent results in terms of visibility that our site has achieved in a few months we have decided to offer our customers the AccessWeb Suite. From 1 January 2009, visits and the pages viewed are increased with the power of Access Pole Position, that can change dinamically the keywords in the site. In three months we have increased by over 50% the HITS of a website already well positioned. And you, what are you waiting for?
